I am wondering if the plans include any environmental focuses. How many green buildings will there be? What will be put in place to encourage developers to stick to creating near zero carbon emissions both during construction and once residents move in? Will there be solar panels on the buildings? Lots of recreational green areas (parks, nature reserves, etc)?

There is great potential to build this space in an environmentally friendly way and incorporate many modern designs. We are building this for the future generations so what good is it to not create it sustainably? In this day and age, there really is no excuse.

How will the land best be utilised to maximise efficiency? Are you consulting with local elders on this project? With 143 hectares of their land being developed, where is the consultation?

I would like to see a greater focus on environmentally friendly construction and design. I would like to see repeated communications with local Wurrundjeri elders throughout the twenty year process. I would like to see our future generations being cared for by you and me, today.

Thank you for your time. I look forward to hearing your response.
