the proposed development envelope is too large. absolutely too much development.

the market should have a larger footprint. it should be expanded and celebrated rather than shunted to a small rectangle squashed between built form.

The green spaces need to connect with the new spaces being delivered with the new train station. and how will they thrive if they are dwarfed by 3 and 4 storey buildings at street level?

the commitment to retaining cultural aspects of the market is very light on. the plans show that the market is secondary use on the site where it should be known as the primary use, with an appropriate amount of development in key areas.

the pedestrian connections need to be improved on murray road as many people go to both the market and woolies at the same time and walk between both precincts.

I confirm that I have read and agree to the above conditions for making a submission.
