The height is too high 20 stories! What about just 6!

It will be a concrete jungle that will add to the urban heat island affect. Is there any GREEN public open space people that live in these apartment have easy access too?

the markets will lose space and be smaller., less stalls. This will lead to higher prices, what about food security? It will become an overpriced exclusive market for those that can afford it.

How will public transport and traffic in high st cope with people from 6000 extra people in the multiple 20 story high rises.

I confirm that I have read and agree to the above conditions for making a submission.

Yes

I agree to the Collection Notice
