Dear VPA

The proposed changes to the market will destroy a unique precinct forever. Once lost, this part of Melbourne's history, like to many others, will be lost to high-rise buildings.

The quantity and height of the proposed new structures are inappropriate for the precinct. Preserving this as a low level precinct is important to retain the welcoming nature and character of the precinct.

The proposal to move parking underground to enhance safety and pedestrian connectivity is fine, the rest of the plan is essentially dismantling the operations of a fresh food market.

While I have little confidence in this process, I urge the committee to reduce the number and height of new built structures and retain existing structures that are paramount to the history and character of this significant community meeting place.

I confirm that I have read and agree to the above conditions for making a submission.
