You should substitute the new proposed oval for an allotment
(https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Allotment_\(gardening\)))

Besides the complete lack of imagination of yet one more oval proposal, the advantages are:

- Spend money on an under used asset. Just look at the current oval, it's barely used. Even you add more people to the suburb it still won't be crowded.

- Spend less money ongoing. The allotment is maintained largely by the assigned people, where an oval will cost a big penny on landscaping and other costs by the council
- With an increased number of people leaving in units, allotments will give them a chance to take on the gardening hobby.

I confirm that I have read and agree to the above conditions for making a submission.
