I'm a cyclist from [REDACTED] and I ride into the development precinct twice a day at least commuting to and from the CBD. I find that all the bridges that go across the Moonee Ponds Creek into/from the precinct to be terrible for cyclists and incredibly unsafe, especially with large vehicles like trucks and buses. Are there plans to address the safety issues for cyclists on the bridges? Perhaps there could be a dedicated bridge for cyclists? Or perhaps bridges could be widened to accommodate a proper bicycle lane? I've attached a couple of images that might help to explain my idea for locations of dedicated bridges from Kensington to the Moonee Ponds Creek bicycle track.
