The buildings within Laurens Street and Arden North sub-precincts, where much low-rise building structure is already in existence, should be designated as areas where only future low-rise buildings can be built.

The will help to maintain the existing character of the highlighted areas, where a feeling of openness and sunshine in the atmosphere can be felt. This is a unique characteristic of an area so close to the Melbourne CBD that does not have such high rising structure.

The transition from medium-rise to high-rise buildings should be designated only within the areas of Arden Central, where the lack of much existing buildings means that a new character and atmosphere can be created.

I confirm that I have read and agree to the above conditions for making a submission.

Yes

I agree to the Collection Notice

Yes
