I have been a resident of Wallan for the past three years. I also work in the new home construction industry.

I've spent the last 6 years singing the praises of Wallan and Beveridge as peaceful and friendly places to live. Over this time I've put at least 50 new homes into these suburbs.

The proposed quarry is now making a mockery of my recommendations and will turn what should be a wonderful place to live into a semi-industrial area with regular disturbances from blasting, dust and large trucks going in and out on the Northern Hwy which is already heavily congested during peak hour.

The quarry will only benefit the owner of the quarry and the land owner, Mr Wally Mott. The proposed jobs over the next 30 years are minimal and will most likely not be filled by members of the local community.

The negatives far outweigh the positives. House values will plummet. Health issues are a genuine concern with the additional dust in the area. Traffic will become unbearable. The blasting will be noisy and will likely cause structural issues for hundreds of home owners who have poured their entire life saving into owning a home.

Finally I feel this issue has not gained enough attention due to the conflict of interest of Mr Mott owning the land and the local newspaper (North Central Review.)
